NO REAL CONTEST IN VIRGINIA TO-DAY

Stuart and Whole State Ticket Will Be Elected by Overwhelming Majority.

POLLS OPEN 6:39; CLOSE 5:09

Fights in Bristol, Norfolk and Rockingham Excite Greatest Interest.

Of the eight States in which elections will be held to-day, the contest in Virginia has in it the least amount of interest, there being no State-wide struggle worthy of the name. All factions of the Democratic party united without even an interparty fight on the nomination of Henry C. Stuart for Governor. Republican papers of the Ninth District supporting Republican candidates for the House, openly support Mr. Stuart. The Progressives have put up no ticket, and the Democratic State ticket will be opposed only by the Socialist and Socialist-Labor parties. Elections for Governor are to be held at this time in Virginia, Massachusetts and New Jersey. test in Virginia has in it the least Expect Small Vote.

Polls open all over Virginia to-day at 5.33 A. M. and close at 5.95 P. M. Hecause of the lack of contest over Hecause of the hick of contest over the State ticket, and with no opposi-tion to seventy-two bemocratic can-idates for the House of belegates, predictions are for the smallest vote ever polled in a general election. State Chairman J. Taylor Ellyson and Cite Chairman James II. Price have Issued appeal after appeal to the voters to go to the poils and maintain the party strength, notwithstanding the lack of local contests, and so avoid giving the Socialist and Socialist-Labor tickets an apparent proportionate strength, which Socialist and Socialist-Labor tickets an apparent proportionate strength which in reality they do not possens.

The representation of Richmond and other cities where there is no local contest may, because of the abnormally small vote, be cut far below that of Norfolk and other cities where there is a struggle to bring out the vote, in the make-up of the next State Democratic convention, and in the apportionment of members of local party committees.

Woman's Interdenominational Missionary Union to Hold Session on Sunday.

Arrangements for the missionary mass-meeting to be held at Centenary Methodist Church on Sunday, November 9, at 4 o'clock, are almost complete. Student volunteers from Richmond College, Medical College of Virginia and Union Theological Seminary will make short addresses.

The Centenary Methodist Sunday School Orchestra, under the direction of Frederick Hardy, will furnish the music, and John Garland Pollard will preside. The Woman's Interdenominational Missionary Union, under whose auspices the meeting will be held, is composed of representatives from all evangelical denominations in Richmond and vicinity. Mrs. J. Calvin Stewart was elected president upon the organization of the union in 1909. She was succeeded by Mrs. E. E. Osgood, who is the present head of the organration. The vice-presidents are Miss Sallie Deane, St. Paul's Episcopal Church; Mrs. W. B. Newell, Broad Street Methodist Church; Miss Hill. Are you a victim?

"Where's that letter? It came last week. I answered it myself and sent it to the files. It can't be found. Why? WHY? Our file clerk is a mighty bright young woman. And yet, half a dozen times a month, she tells me she 'can't find that letter'."

If YOU are a victim of this sort of thing; if you have a filing system that won't "unfile" when you want it, the thing for you to do is to look into the "Automatic Index" method of filing. Take a little time, this afternoon or to-morrow, and see how it works -at your office or our salesroom.

The "A. I." has practically everything that other filing methods have and some things that no other method has.

Concerns that have adopted it like it because it is quick, correct and very simple. No special training is required to operate it.

With the "Automatic Index" it is easy to file correctly. It is almost impossible to file incorrectly. For this reason: The "A.
I." checks itself. And it indexes itself. Hence its name—"Automatic Index." Ask for catalog
